

Hettich expands UK presence through Ostermann partnership

Hettich's award-winning drawer systems and hinges are now available from Ostermann UK.

Ostermann UK is part of a family business which already partners with Hettich in Germany and Benelux, and serves customers throughout the UK and Ireland. It has taken on a wide range of products from the Hettich portfolio, with visible stock availability on its website and next-day deliveries.

"We are delighted to offer our customers even more variety from a single source," said Stephen Parsons, managing director, Ostermann UK. "Our staff received intensive training on the new products from Hettich UK at our premises so we can provide technical support from the start."

"As a trusted single-source for components, Ostermann UK is an ideal partner for Hettich in the UK," said Simeon Gabriel, managing director, Hettich UK.

"Service and convenience are a vital part of our customer relationship, alongside our renowned design and quality, and working with Ostermann UK underlines our commitment to these values."

Ostermann UK customers can now choose from three Hettich drawer systems: AvanTech YOU, ArciTech and InnoTech Atira, including sets with the runners, front fixings, cover caps and back panel connectors under one item number.

For hinges, Ostermann UK now offers the Hettich Sensys concealed range, including the elegant Obsidian Black version, as well as Intermat and the Kamat guide hinge for high doors with fixed-door connections for refrigerators.

Ostermann will send out a catalogue in January to its customers as a handy guide to the new Hettich options, which are also available to view on www.ostermann.eu
