

Disassembling and reassembling upholstered furniture the clever way

CoFix by Hettich

Hettich says: It's time to rethink! CoFix is the innovative connecting fitting that allows upholstered furniture to be assembled and disassembled with just a click. CoFix revolutionises the production, transport and assembly of upholstered furniture – ensuring the satisfaction of all involved from start to finish.

The benefits of CoFix already become apparent during production: By creating individual parts, large pieces of furniture are not manufactured in one piece, but in individual elements, reducing lifting and carrying to a minimum and making their overall handling easier. This is convenient and greatly contributes to occupational health and safety. It's ever so easy to attach the fitting: with only two screws. CoFix creates a stable connection between the furniture parts: no loose fits and absolutely resilient. The connecting fitting enables easy pre-assembly by the manufacturer and convenient reassembly by the customer – completely without tools.

Upholstered furniture is also a great challenge in storage and logistics: It's often not only heavy but also bulky, taking up valuable cargo space in trucks. By allowing furniture to be disassembled into individual parts, CoFix leads to efficient use of transport volume and clearly less storage and logistics costs. It's obvious that a sofa in individual parts can be transported quickly and easily through narrow staircases. This also minimises the risk
