

Yet another award: WingLine L from Hettich

New design flexibility with high convenience factor

Following the "Red Dot Design Award" and the Australian "Gold Star Award", the WingLine L folding door system from Hettich has now been given the "Good Design Award" from the Japan Industrial Design Promotion Organization.

WingLine L comes with a wide range of design options and always guarantees a high level of user convenience. It is the first folding door system on the market that also provides the capability of creating on trend, handleless furniture design for every type of furniture.

Whether in the wardrobe, alcove or kitchen: WingLine L from Hettich is the folding door system that never fails to impress in all sorts of different applications. The folding sliding door system makes a practical problem solver wherever space is confined and open hinged doors would stand out too far. The user friendly folding door fitting brings added functionality to corner units, base units or sideboards. Under stairs and sloping ceilings too, WingLine L provides the answer to utilising previously wasted storage space while also giving it visual appeal. WingLine L demonstrates all of its benefits in top mounted units and wall cabinets as an ergonomic alternative to the flap door. And last but not least, the system comes with an element of surprise in large sized wardrobes with its fascinating panorama opening effect.

WingLine L's innovative "Push / Pull to move" opening mechanism reliably ensures ease of use: with a mere movement of the hand, WingLine L opens a complete door set almost by itself. On door wings up to 2400 mm high and 600 mm wide, the fitting makes everything inside very easy to see and reach. With minimal door protrusion, WingLine L also permits the combination of drawers and pull-outs behind the folding sliding door. As the innovative folding door system can also be used to create handleless fronts, it caters to the very latest expectations on design. WingLine L is suitable for all commonly used door wing formats and is easy to install without the need for tools. This means that even large wardrobes and cabinets can be assembled on site by just one fitter.
